MAR – APR 2010 • MORTON GROVE PUBLIC LIBRARY • www.webrary.org

National Library Week is April 18 – 25

The 2010 theme is: Communities Thrive @ Your Library

Spring 2010 Amateur Photo Contest: Morton Grove People and Places

Calling all amateur photographers – of all ages! Enter the Library's spring photo contest and you may win one of three grand prizes! Winning photos will be displayed in the Baxter Room, on the Library's website, and printed in Library publications.

Entries for the Spring 2010 Contest must be received by Friday, April 2, at 6 pm, CST. Winners will be announced at the Sounds of Spring Concert to be held at the Library on Sunday, April 18, at 2 pm (Winners need not be present to win).

All photos must be in color and taken in Morton Grove within the last three years (2007-2010) by a non-professional/amateur photographer. The photo subject must be relevant to one of the following contest categories:

- People: portraits, sports
- Landscape and architecture
- Animals: wildlife, pets
- Elements of design: abstract/details

Entries may be color prints or digital images. Black and white images are not eligible. Guidelines for submitting prints and digital images are listed in the Official Rules posted in the Library and at www.webrary.org/inside/photorules.pdf. Questions? Call the Reference Services Desk at 847-929-5101.

A series of classes related to photography will also be offered; see details on pages 9, 10, and 11.

Ben Schapiro: From the Director's Desk

Over the years, my conversations with patrons have regularly elicited several themes about the library building. Most say the building offers a welcoming feeling of warmth that is unique for area libraries. It is built on a human scale and the south exposure can fill the main floor with a delightful natural light—great for reading and the occasional nap. At the same time, while some of the details, like our brass chandeliers, have a distinct charm, others, like the many narrow stairways, can hamper access to collections for many patrons.

The public forum we hosted in January brought forth many more reactions, opinions and suggestions about our building. We were pleased at the turnout by both residents and Village officials who came to share their thinking on the current building and how it fits the needs of Morton Grove. Moderated by Library Building consultant George Lawson, the forum highlighted a number of facts and views about the Library.

Since 2000, use of the building has increased dramatically. Adult program attendance has gone up 95.8%. Youth Services program attendance has gone up 245.3%. In 2009, 34,244 people attended library programs compared to 12,648 in 2000. The number of in-library Internet users has gone up 289.8% (from 6,281 in 2000 to 24,485 in 2009) and total circulation has gone up 44.2% in the same time frame. Clearly, the current building is heavily used.

Here is a sampling of the many thoughtful comments and suggestions we received during this very productive meeting:

Positive reactions:

- The Library is a tremendous cultural asset for the community with its programs and collections.
- It provides a wide range of wonderful programs. More space is needed for these programs and for the meetings of community groups.
- The staff has a great service attitude that the community appreciates (this comment met with general audience assent/applause).
- People like the auditorium space, the stepped seating, the stage.

Concerns:

- Collection shelving is very limited.
- Parking is very limited.
- Sound is an issue in the main part of the library. It is very distracting.
- Access: Patrons should be able to both enter and exit from both sets of doors.
- ADA access is needed to allow all patrons access to the collections on the mezzanine.

Suggestions/Ideas/Thoughts:

- A drop-in arts and crafts program for children would be wonderful.
- The nonfiction collections should be more prominently featured in the building layout and in special displays.
- Let's do more for teens to capture their interest.
- Be creative in re-organizing the building layout to attract residents who don't currently use the library.
- Be careful considering the economy and project costs when thinking about a building project. Some residents are very concerned about the cost of potential new building.
- Don't be shortsighted about the economy. We want a library that will draw people to Morton Grove.
- The library is a magnet, a destination. If we won't invest in ourselves, who will?
- Morton Grove needs something special, an attraction.
- Would a branch library make sense for Morton Grove?
- The challenge is putting "modern" and "charming" together in the same sentence. (People like the charm of the existing building but also want a modern library facility).
- Does the "charm" get in the way of maximum service?

The U.S. Census: How People Are Counted

Tues., Mar. 9, 11:30 am

The federal government distributes more than $400 billion annually to state, local and tribal governments based on census data. The 2010 Census form includes ten questions and takes about ten minutes to complete. In March, every U.S. household should receive a census form either by mail or in person from a census worker. By participating in the census, you can help create a better future for yourself and for those important to you. A representative of the U.S. Census Bureau will discuss the census-taking process and answer questions about the forms at Movies, Munchies and More, on March 9, at 11:30.

What's New in Digital Cameras

Wed., Mar. 3, 7 – 8:30 pm

Sean West, from Abt Electronics, will show you the latest digital cameras and will discuss how to use them and how to evaluate the different features so that you can choose the best camera for your needs. Reg. req.

Census Questionnaire Assistance Center

The Morton Grove Public Library will be serving as a Census Questionnaire Assistance Center from March 19 – April 19. Some individuals or groups have unique living situations and the Census Bureau can help define residence rules. Ask questions and get in-person assistance completing your census form. Call the Reference Services Desk at 847-929-5101 for Census Center hours.

Workforce Investment Act Orientation

Fri., Mar. 5, 9:30 – 11:30 am

Meet Our New Readers Services Librarian

Whether you come to the Reference Services desk in person or talk to a librarian on the phone or online, you might have thought that it would be helpful to know more about the team of librarians assisting you. Or perhaps you just want to put a face with a name for the librarian who assisted you in your research. We can help you with that! Starting with this issue, we will introduce the Morton Grove Public Library's Reference Librarians to you and give you a brief overview of each librarian's areas of expertise.

Katie Nolan

I'd like to introduce the Library's new Readers Services librarian, Katie Nolan. Ms. Nolan is not new to the Library; she has been a part of the reference team since June of 2009 and only recently changed roles and titles.

But what does a Readers Services (RS) Librarian do? Aside from helping answer patron questions and concerns at the Reference Services desk, an RS librarian is steeped in all things fiction and literary. She orders fiction and audiobooks, oversees book discussion groups, creates book lists and is always happy to provide reading recommendations for patrons.

As a library, we want you to find something to read that is interesting, fun, and/or useful and we take that mission very seriously. To that end, we have set up several services to help you find what you need. Want to know what is new and hot in any number of different genres? Try our print/e-mail book recommendation service, Matchbook. Tired of long silent commutes in the car? Skim through our growing collection of audiobooks on CD and on pre-loaded MP3 players called Playaways. Love the internet and taking media on the go? Download audiobooks or electronic books to your MP3 player or to your computer at MyMediaMall! Passionate about books and want to share your opinion? Join one of our book discussion groups! We read both fiction and non-fiction titles and are always open to new members and ideas.

For more information, feel free to visit our website, www.webrary.org, give us a call at 847-929-5101 or stop by the Reference Services Desk. No questions? Stop by the desk anyway and say hello to Katie and the other librarians!

From the Director's Desk

The last two comments are very important when any thought is given to the future of MGPL. The building fits with this community and people are very attached to its scale. In my experience, charm does not need to get in the way of service and that service is enhanced in a building that is comfortable and welcoming. If people like the space, then they also appreciate what goes on in that space.

So, one of our major challenges is to retain the warm feel of this building in whatever approach is chosen to address its limitations. At the end of the evening I could not agree more with the last resident to speak who stated:

"I hate change. I was thrilled when they built this building, but life is change. I hope the community is open to the possibilities a building project would bring."

Computer Practice Lab

For patrons who have taken any of our hands-on Internet computer workshops, this lab session provides time to practice skills learned in one of our workshops with help from a librarian.

Sat., Apr. 17, 10 am
This session is intended for people who have attended one of the following workshops: MS Word 2007, Excel 2007, or PowerPoint 2007.

We should not see print and electronic literature as in competition, but rather in conversation. The more voices that join in, the richer the dialogue is likely to be.
